METRO SMT –Your bridge across the world.

Welcome to METRO. We've spent the last 10 years perfecting our SMT business around the world and now offer our Customers precision replacement SMT Nozzles, SMT Feeders and SMT Spares.

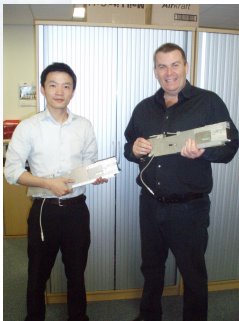

We have visited all the centres of electronics manufacturing and achieved approved Vendor status as well as coveted ISO9001-2000 accreditation.

We have pioneered the design and refinement of our own brand range of nozzles which we manufacture and sell. We have close relationships with Universities where we have developed new technologies in materials and studied and researched more efficient vacuum design flow in nozzle preparation. We work with the OEM machine companies on supplying knowledge and consultancy with Custom design, and are licensed to manufacture and supply SMT products directly to more than 6 OEM machine companies operating worldwide. Our development of new materials has helped Metro design new replacement Feeders for SMT assembly at more attractive and competitive prices.

Metro SMT guarantee to offer the very best prices for whatever product you require. We work in conjunction with International Shipping Agencies and work hard to keep costs of all aspects of our business under review.

The EMS Professionals have spoken and we have listened. We welcome your comments and support your drive for competitive excellence and profitable growth.

We look forward to working with you
